KENTUCKY WEATHER REPORT.

What We May Expect Between This Time and To-morrow Evening.

THE LEDGER'S WEATHER SIGNALS.

White clouds—Fair; Blue—Rain or snow; With Black above—Twill warmer grow; If Black's beneath—Colder 'till be; Unless Black's shown—no change we'll see.

The above forecasts are made for a period of thirty-six hours, ending at 5 o'clock to-morrow evening.

WHEN WILL THEY COME?

There's money plenty in the banks, And mud upon the streets; The sky is clear, the grass is green— Most charming "bitter sweets." Our street cars are the lightning kind, The dust is awful thick; Our waterworks are hard to beat— Oh, would our streets were brick! We want and sigh for better things, Before we're laid away; Oh, mistake them, don't tell us that "They'll come some other day."

THEIR NEW HOUSE OF WORSHIP

The Handsome Edifice Just Completed for the Southern Methodists.

The new M. E. Church, South, is now nearly completed and equipped, and the members of the congregation can congratulate themselves on having one of the most beautiful and attractive places of worship in the state. The structure, of imposing appearance, is erected on West Second street, on the same site where the old building had stood for forty years, and where the latter's predecessor stood also. Every piece of material used in the construction is of the finest, and every workman employed was a master of his art.

For some years the congregation had been considering the advisability of replacing the old church with one more modern in architecture and appliances, and finally all obstacles were overcome, and the building assumed definite shape, a determination to do was resolved upon and the result has been most gratifying to all concerned. To the zeal and energy of the contractors, the earnest and daily care and attention of the building committee and the untiring devotion of the Pastor much credit must be given. The plans were drawn by Craspey & Brown, the well known architects of Cincinnati.

The contract for the whole of the work was awarded to the firm of Wormald & Carpenter of this city.

The building committee, under whose almost constant supervision the work was done, was composed of the following gentlemen: John W. Power, Chairman; W. W. Ball, Thomas A. Keith, E. P. Browning and John C. Adamson.

The work of tearing down the old edifice was begun on Monday, the 8th day of June, 1891. On the same day of the present year it may be said to have been completed—everything was in readiness for the broom and scrub-brush.

The foundation was promptly built by that excellent workman, John Moran. The cornerstone was laid on the 29th day of September, 1891, with appropriate ceremonies.

The entire front of the building is of stone, this part of the work being done by Noel Brothers of Portsmouth. The pitch-work is of limestone and the remainder of the best quality of freestone.

The rest of the exterior walls are of brick, built by George M. Clinger of this city, which is a guarantee.

The tin and slate roof was put on by the popular firm of McClelland & Shea. The painting contract was awarded to John Crane, and the plastering to John Hill. Both did their work in the most satisfactory manner.

The fresco work was done by William A. Lay & Co. of Cincinnati, and the handsome windows were furnished by William Conliffe & Son of the same city. The furniture is very pretty and ornamental and was received from the Cincinnati School and Church Furniture Co. The carpets and the hardware used were purchased of the old reliable firm of George Cox & Son, and the Frank Owens Hardware Co. of Maypsville.

The heating and ventilating was attended to by the firm of Bennett & Peck, Cincinnati. An building change of air can be had in the entire building within twenty minutes.

The gas fixtures were furnished by Dodd, Werner & Co., Cincinnati, and are very tasteful.

The plumbing was done in first class style by J. J. Fitzgerald of this city. Ball, Mitchell & Co. did the iron work, and of course it was well done.

A beautiful mantle, grate and the hearth in the Pastor's study, furnished by Bierbower & Co., should not remain unmentioned.

The auditorium is in the form of an exact circle and seats three hundred and fifty people. The Sunday-school room, which is in the front part, is separated from the auditorium by folding shutters which can be easily raised, thus throwing the two rooms together and adding one hundred to the seating capacity. The Minister can be easily seen and heard from any part of the room. There is also a small gallery.

On either side of the pulpit are the Pastor's study and the space reserved for the choir.

Altogether it is as perfect in arrangements and as attractive in design as one could wish to see. It is all that skillful labor and thoughtful consideration of even the most minute details could accomplish. It is an ornament to the city, and will long stand as a tribute to those who undertook the enterprise and so successfully and satisfactorily carried it through.

The day for the dedication has not been definitely determined upon. It is the intention to make this occasion one long to be remembered, and it is not known just what time it will take to arrange all of the details. The date will be an early one at the farthest.

At a session of the Academy of Medicine in Cincinnati, one of the Professors read a paper on "Skin Grafting," and had two patients present to show the result of treatment by skin grafting. One of the patients had had his foot crushed in a railroad accident and suffered a great loss of skin. The Doctor had shaved off long strips of skin from the patient's thigh and put it on his foot. These strips of skin were very thin; in fact, much thinner than paper. They were removed from the thigh without drawing blood or causing pain, and without leaving any scar or mark. The wounded foot on which the skin was grafted was nearly healed, fresh skin having grown from the thin strips. The subject in this case was Joe Sholl, who formerly was employed by E. F. Powell of this city as a baker.

WHY SECRETARY BLAINE QUIT.

One John W. Foster's Interference Causes the Great Premier's Resignation.

There have been several reasons assigned for the curt and seemingly hasty resignation of Secretary Blaine, but none of them are more plausible, or probably near the exact truth, than that assigned by the Washington correspondent of The Chicago Inter Ocean. Under recent date he says:

Many causes have been alleged for the action of Mr. Blaine in terminating his relations with the President so abruptly. The final cause, however, was not disclosed until to-day. The Canadian officials who came to Washington to talk over the questions pending between the State Department and the Dominion had had one conference the day preceding the resignation, and met on Saturday, June 18th, to continue their conference. At the Saturday meeting he was making a statement of his views of the points in dispute and what in his judgment was the question at issue, and the remedy for the differences between the two countries. There was also present John W. Foster, who had been attending to much State Department work during Mr. Blaine's absence and illness, and in the midst of the remarks of Mr. Blaine he is said to have interrupted him with the statement that he was just expressing would hardly have the President's approval.

Mr. Blaine proceeded with his remarks and reiterated what had already been stated, adding with emphasis that the State Department was unable to take care of all the business belonging to it without advice or interference from anyone occupying a subordinate position in it. Thereupon Mr. Foster said he knew Mr. Blaine was not presenting the views of the President, and proceeded to state them by his direction and in his name.

"Gentlemen," said the Secretary, "this conference is adjourned," and he quickly left the room, penning his resignation while his indignation was at its height. Mr. Foster assured the Canadians that Mr. Blaine would not make the slightest difference in the object of their visit, and that they could return to Ottawa at once and resume the discussion by correspondence. They accordingly left on the 4 o'clock train.

There were other causes of irritation which Mr. Blaine thought were intended to make his stay in the department disagreeable, but after the humiliation he was subjected to in the presence of the Canadian officials, he said he could not remain in the office another moment, and for that reason he resigned. "It was written on the letter that it might hereafter appear that between the record of the adjournment of the conference and his resignation there was but a very brief space of time.

This statement now explains the concluding sentence of Mr. Blaine's resignation. "The condition of public business in the Department of State justifies me in requesting that my resignation may be accepted immediately." In other words, Mr. Blaine construed Mr. Foster's statement as an announcement that he, Mr. Blaine, was the present representative in the State Department and that his official rights and faculties as the President's mouthpiece had been suspended.

THE LEDGER will issue a special edition early on the morning of July 1st. Advertisers will do well to take advantage of this issue, which will be large and unique. Copy must be in hand not later than noon of the 1st.

In July, 1898, every common carrier shall file with the Interstate Commerce Commission a statement of the automatic coupler which it prefers. If any coupler receives 75 per cent. of the votes it shall be adopted as a standard automatic coupler. ELECTRICITY has been recently applied to establish the state of a horse's foot. Usage is to put one pole of a battery in contact with the inside of the hoof, the other pole in contact with the iron shoe. If the hoof is pierced with iron nails to the quick, the horse will feel the electric current and become irritated; in the other case, the current cannot pass through the foot.

SOME of the Cincinnati barbers are sore at the river captains. They say that they are willing to live up to the Sunday law, but they want everybody to abide by its provisions. The matter will be discussed at the next session of the Barbers' Union.

VERY few people have any idea of how much it takes to run a poolroom, says The Lexington Herald. It costs a day for telegraph, soap, and sometimes more; $5 a day for a telephone, $6 a day for a board waiter, $30 a week for a cashier, $20 a week each for ticket writers, and there are many other expenses besides. Still the pool-room generally comes out ahead at the end of the season, but not nearly so much as the general public supposes.

The loss was $130,000, upon which there was an insurance of $95,000. The entire fire department was called out, and the main part of the plant was saved, it being detached from the elevator. The friction of the machinery is supposed to have started the flames in the large cylinder. The men were in the building, and they had difficulty in escaping. The entire plant was valued at $300,000, and several times it seemed that the whole would be destroyed.

CLEVELANDERS

Confidently Claiming 580 Votes
On the First Ballot.

Delegates From Every State and Territory Now in Chicago.

The Anti-Clevelanders Claim That the President Can Not Be Nominated On the First Ballot, and That This Will Denigrate His Force.

CHICAGO, June 21.—The extravagant claims and the pretensions estimates which have characterized the campaign of the Cleveland and anti-Cleveland factions during the past week are gradually giving way to facts and figures. The delegates from every state and territory were in the city Monday morning, and the work of ascertaining the presidential preferences of individual delegates is progressing so rapidly that the relative strength of the Cleveland and anti-Cleveland factions is so nearly known that the only delegates left to be counted are those from the states which are suspected of having secret preferences for favorite sons.

The managers of the ex-president's campaign Monday displayed with a great deal of ostentation a carefully prepared table which gives Cleveland 580 votes on the first ballot, just nineteen days short of the two-thirds for a nomination. The anti-Cleveland factions, among which may be included not only the forces of Senator McKim, but also those of Boies, Gray and the secret but very earnest workers of Senator Gorman, deride as unscrupulous the extravagant claims of the Cleveland leaders, and assert that their investigations show that the ex-president is assured but little more than a plurality on the first ballot. They still maintain that the failure of Cleveland to be nominated on the first ballot will so denigrate his force that the re-election of Cleveland's strength will be immediately lost, and the race will then become one of the dark horse variety.

Probably the most pertinent feature in the whole contest just at this time is the attitude of Senator Gorman, of Maryland. He is here as a member of the state delegation as a delegate-at-large, and outwardly maintains that he is devoted to the re-election of Cleveland. He is, however, a member of the anti-Cleveland faction, and his attitude is a subject of much interest to the Clevelanders, because of his position as a delegate-at-large, and his position as a member of the anti-Cleveland faction.

For seventy-two hours the secret emissaries of Senator Gorman have been ceaselessly engaged canvassing the various southern delegations to ascertain the disposition which the southern people manifest toward the re-election of Cleveland. He is here as a member of the anti-Cleveland faction, and his attitude is a subject of much interest to the Clevelanders, because of his position as a delegate-at-large, and his position as a member of the anti-Cleveland faction.

The Clevelanders Will Hear the News. BUZZARD'S BAY, Mass., June 21.—Grover Cleveland and his charming little family are here as usual at their beautiful home, Grey Gables. ## MINNESOTA MILITIA

Called Out to Suppress Disgraceful Striking Miners. TOWNE, Minn., June 21.—The Minnesota mine, in the city employing 14,000 men, shut down Saturday night, and the shafts are filling with water. President Bacon arrived here and the strikers to state their grievances. Surface men's wages were reduced 10 per cent. last week and they demand that former rates be restored.

It is now believed that bloodshed will be avoided here, although there are yet many chances of serious trouble. Twenty-one of the strikers were arrested Sunday by details of militia with the sheriffs and deputies. The strikers were taken by surprise in their homes before any crowd could organize. It has calmed them greatly, and fires were started and pumps set to work Sunday night.

There are fears of a large quantity of dynamite in the hands of the strikers. There are also fears that the Ely mines will join with the others in the strike. There have been a number of arrests of strikers, and a number of them have been taken to the city. The strikers are now in a state of confusion, and the mine is now in the hands of the strikers. The Father's Emotion Upon Meeting James G., Jr., Is Observable.

And One Can Imagine the Stricken Father's Thoughts—His Wife and Daughter Near By Well-Telegraphed.

CHICAGO, June 21.—Ex-Secretary Blaine, Mrs. Blaine and daughter arrived in Chicago Monday evening, to attend the funeral of Emmons Blaine. The party was met at the depot by Cyrus H. McCormick, Jr., brother of James G. Blaine, and James G. Blaine, Jr. The latter had arrived in Chicago by an hour previously, and at once went to the home of his father and sister. On seeing his son, the ex-secretary grasped his hand with affection, and for a moment his face showed a deep anguish. The daughter, who was then driven rapidly to the McCormick residence, at 135 Rush street. There, for a short time, father, mother, brother and sister were left alone. An hour after arriving Mr. and Mrs. Blaine retired to gain a few hours' much needed rest.

Mr. Blaine, said Cyrus McCormick, "as well as Mrs. Blaine and her daughter, stood the fatigue of their long journey remarkably well. Mr. Blaine was feeling unusually well so far as his bodily health is concerned. Of course, one can estimate the shock and anguish the sudden death of his son has caused him. The wonder is that the man is able to bear up at all. That he has done so is another evidence of his remarkable character. He is a man of great strength of mind and body. We can only hope that when it is all over Mr. Blaine's spirit will not forsake him."

The funeral takes place at 2:30 today at Graceland cemetery. The services, at which Rev. Dr. McPherson, of the Second Presbyterian church, this city, a personal friend of the Blaine family, will officiate, will be held at the Rush street residence, and will be strictly private. Telegrams of condolence continue to pour in from all parts of the country.
